

*I haven't got the energy, the heat has drained it out,
And so my usual advert, you will have to do without.
Let me say that I'm still here to meet your sewing need,
I'll still do my work properly though not at normal speed.*

*The trouble is when sewing as I sit here in the sun,
The thunder flies get everywhere – there goes another one!
The pristine white material on which I have to stitch,
Is covered with these creatures – and boy they make me itch.*

*So I give up, go indoors and pour myself a glass
Of course it's only lemonade – really, need you ask !!*
